

Testing is better than Guessing

2017 Grain Grading School

May 31 | September 6

OHIO COMMODITY TESTER
CERTIFICATION & RECERTIFICATION

WHAT

OABA's Grain Grading School, approved by the Ohio Department of Agriculture, provides commodity testers with 2017 certification and recertification opportunities. Sept. 30, 2017 is the renewal deadline.

WHO

All individuals who perform a quality test for the purpose of applying a premium or discount on commodities are required by law to be certified. Those currently certified must either fulfill continuing education requirements, or pass the written exam once every three years to renew their Commodity Tester Certificate.

WHEN & WHERE

Two sessions are offered. Only one is needed for certification.

May 31 | September 6

Bromfield Building at the Ohio Department of Agriculture

8995 E Main Street, Reynoldsburg, OH 43068

EVENT DETAILS

Procedural training for grading corn, soybeans and wheat, as well as sampling equipment. Testers must pass an open-book exam to obtain certification/renewal.

Instruction by Eurofins Grain Inspection and Steve Peters, Inc.

HAVE QUESTIONS ABOUT A GRAIN SAMPLE?

Bring a sample to the class to share with the group as a teaching aid.
